

Victoria Raymont

Bio – Victoria Raymont

Described by many of her clients as “trusted advisor”, “provocateur” and “truth teller”, for more than 20 years Victoria Raymont has been helping corporate leaders, trustees and entrepreneurs make the big decisions: on strategy, culture, implementation and personal leadership. Victoria is best known for creating The 4 Quadrants of LeadershipSM, the context to drive business results and accelerate leaders’ impact and performance.

In practice, Victoria is a highly regarded business strategist, trusted consultant, executive leadership/presence coach and dynamic speaker. Founder and Principal of Chicago-based Raymont Group since 1996, she has led highly successful strategic and career transformations. Prior to founding Raymont Group, Ms. Raymont began her career as an engineer for BF Goodrich Chemical Division. Subsequently, she served in senior positions for leading international marketing, training and consulting firms. Her technical background combined with extensive application of best-in-class practices brings a unique and valuable perspective and skill set to client engagements.

Her clients span a cross-section of industries, including (to name a few): McDonald’s, BMO Harris, Humana, Motorola Solutions, Mission Investment Fund, Northwestern Mutual, HSBC, Chamberlain, Health Care Service Corporation, DaVita Kidney Care, Thermo-Fisher Scientific and American Hospital Association.

Victoria has over 25 years of philanthropic governance service and currently serves as Chair of the Board of Directors of the Alzheimer’s Association, Greater Illinois Chapter and is a member/co-chair of the Tiffany Circle (the International Society for Women’s Leadership) of The American Red Cross.

Ms. Raymont holds dual Bachelor of Science degrees in chemistry and zoology, from Kent State University, and is a graduate from The Coaches Training Institute.
